Other special invitees who were the parents of our students and esteemed guests too embellish the event. The program began with a prayer dance. Following this was a remarkable performance by the various classes. They looked very lovely and beautiful with their colourful dresses. Their performance made all the guests and the parents believe that they are the special gifted children of God. The parents left the hall with an energized feeling, overwhelming happiness and with smiles on their faces after watching the exhilarating performance.

The Annual Day of class IV – XII was held on 16th November, 2019 amidst great enthusiasm and zeal. We, the Indians, are the inheritors of such a rich culture and heritage. Our heritage is our asset, our biggest responsibility. Thus, to celebrate the significance of our heritage, we chose the theme, “Let’s protect our heritage” for our 17th Annual Day Celebration. The chief Guest, Shri Om Prakash Singh, Asset Manager of ONGC, Tripura graced the occasion along with the guest of Honor, Smt. J. Vanlal Duati, SDM of Ambassa and many other special invitees. The Annual Day commenced with the welcome song, ‘we Dream a Better India.’ The singers had indeed drawn the strings of our hearts. How could we begin that auspicious day without praying to the Almighty for his blessings? And when the prayer within our heart is synchronized with the movement of our body, we couldn’t ask for more. Hence, the performers of PRAYER & WELCOME DANCE lit up the stage with their soothing performance.

Next up, our beloved Principal, Sr. Albrida Pyngrope conducted the felicitation ceremony and gave a heart warming welcome to our distinguished guests. We were truly gratified to listen to the words of our honourable director, Sr. Celine D’Cunha, as she helped up our spirits with her words. Then, our esteemed Chief Guest & Guest of Honour enlightened us with their invaluable words of wisdom. This was followed by the magical budding musicians of Auxilium who made the audience wander off in a different world. Tripura, though little, has a diversity worth appreciating, which never fails to spellbind its people. So, the Auxilians gave a vibrant glimpse of Tripura through their gorgeous dance.

Gandhi – the man whose aura and strength spoke louder than words and guns, someone, whose contribution for our freedom is remembered even after decades of independence. The Auxilians paid a tribute to this noble soul on his 150th birth anniversary. After this the elegant divas of Auxilium presented their glamour through the captivating ‘Bengali Dance’ which portrayed a mixture of dance forms such as Kathak, Manipuri, Kuchipudi, Kathakali & Bharatnatyam. Then, our students presented a short dance – drama on the topic, “Dream of Mahatma – A clean India.”

Every foot in the ground was tapping away: everybody swaying in rhythm, as the Bollywood rockers set the stage on fire by their rocking performance. Tagore- a Nobel Laureate was given a heartfelt tribute by our Auxilians for his contribution in bringing Indian literature to another level by his writings that have motivated all the Indian to look for light in the darkest of times.

There everyone was overcome by wonder as the elegant and graceful Auxilians danced the dance of Joy and HAPPINESS. Next up everybody’s heart was filled with happiness and warmth when they witnessed the beautiful drama about the bittersweet bond of a family. After this lovely performance, the performances of ‘Caring of our common home’ gave a deep insight on the prevailing conditions of the environment. How heartbreaking it was to see our planet our mother earth being destroyed ruthlessly, due to the greed of mankind. The audience was deeply touched through this performance.

On this occasion, the Auxilians paid a tribute to the missile man of India, the epitome of excellence, our 11th president Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam through ‘Kalam: Student’s Hero’

Then the audience witnessed the power packed performance of the Auxili- Warriors, who left everyone in awe as they beautifully portrayed their courage through their lethal Karate Moves. After blowing everyone’s mind, the Auxilians breathed a new life into ballroom dance. Finally the last performance of the occasion was the theme “let’s protect our heritage”. It was beautifully portrayed by students where they bring home a message of the need to protect with pride our heritage the Bhartiya Sanskriti through love and care. It also reminded everyone that it is not enough to preserve our monuments and architecture, but also our values morals traditions and diversity.

All the good things come to a graceful end. The Auxilium family experienced a gush of satisfaction as the much awaited programme came to a sweet end and left the audience understand and extremely proud of the children and their performance.
